

National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University Department of Mechanical Engineering Master's Program Requirements

Approved by Department faculty meeting, June 21, 1995
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, January 16, 2002
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, October 13, 2004
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, February 23, 2005
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, March 16, 2005
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, September 19, 2007
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, October 14, 2009
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, April 13, 2011
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, February 29, 2012
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, February 27, 2013
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, March 18, 2015
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, September 23, 2015
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, March 14, 2018
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, March 13, 2019
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, December 11, 2019
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, September 12, 2021
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, March 09, 2022
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, March 08, 2023
Amended and approved by Department faculty meeting, September 18, 2024

I. Legal Foundation:

These graduations regulations for master's degree candidates (hereafter referred to as "graduate students") of National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University (hereafter referred to as "the University") Department of Mechanical Engineering (hereafter referred to "the Department") are formulated in compliance with the National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University Regulations for Conferral of Graduate Degrees.

II. Admission Channel:

Admission channels for the Department's master's degree are:

(1) Recruitment and testing: Applications are opened to those with at least a bachelor's degree (include graduating students and the equivalent). The University has an open recruitment, and admission into the Department's master's program will be based on one of the following:

1. Admission by recommendations (hereafter referred to as "recommended student").
2. Admission by testing.

- (2) Bachelor's to Master's: Admission into the Department's master's program is based on the Department's Bachelor's to Master's program regulations,
- (3) Dual Degree: For graduate students enrolled in the department's Master's Program through the Dual Degree Program policies of this university and other universities.
- (4) Others: Admission into the Department's master's program is based on the University's regulations for recruiting graduate students.

III. Transfer from Other Departments:

- (1) The Department does not accept transfer graduate students from other institutes or departments.
- (2) Graduate students in the Department are not permitted to transfer to other groups.

IV. Time to Degree:

- (1) The study period of the Department master's program must be completed in not less than one year and not more than four years. For on-job graduate students, the study period may be extended for one year.
- (2) The above time limitation for program completion does not include leave of absence. Graduate students are allowed one semester, one academic year or two academic years of leave of absence, but accumulated absence must not exceed two academic years.
- (3) Upon deadline for time to degree, graduate students who have not fulfilled graduation requirements must drop out.

V. Graduation Requirements:

- (1) To graduate from the Department's master's program, students must fulfill the following requirements:
 1. Graduation credits: At least 24 credits (excluding credits for English language study courses), but graduate students of:
 - a. Energy and Thermofluids Group must choose at least two courses of the following core courses: Viscous Fluid Flow, Heat Convection, Heat Conduction and Radiation, Int. to Turbulent Flow, Computational Fluid Dynamics, Combustion Fundamentals, Experimental Methods in Fluid Mechanics, Heat Exchanger Design.
 - b. Solid Mechanics Group must choose two of the following core courses: Elasticity and Finite Element Method.
 2. Seminar Discussion Courses: A student should take the course of "Seminar" in every semester during the study period (except for the study period spent abroad by the student pursuing a double degree and approved by the University to study abroad). If the student has not yet graduated but his/her study period exceeds four semesters, the student can take the course of "Seminar" for four semesters at most.
 3. Passed a master's program exam and submitted an Oral Defense Committee Review Report.

- (2) A score of less than 70 for graduate students is a failing grade, and no credit will be awarded for that course.

- (3) Credits, course and other relevant requirements for graduation are based on the graduation regulations for the year of admission into the master's program. Please refer any questions to the Teaching and Curriculum

VI. Advisor:

- (1) Graduate students in the Department must confirm their choice of advisor within 2 weeks after the beginning of the first semester, and submit a proof of confirmation signed by the advisor to the Department for records. If an advisor cannot be confirmed by the deadline, an extension is allowed until before the second semester. If a student cannot confirm an advisor after the extension, the Teaching and Curriculum Committee will handle the matter.
- (2) Advisors must be full-time or adjunct instructors in the Department of Mechanical Engineering or Institute of Space Systems Engineering. However, if the advisor is an adjunct instructor, another full-time instructor from the Department must act as the joint advisor.
- (3) Each instructor in the Department of Mechanical Engineering or Institute of Space Systems Engineering may only advise up to four graduate students per year (this does not include joint advising), of whom not more than three are recommended students. Special circumstances for additional students are subjected to the approval of the Teaching and Curriculum Committee.
- (4) For joint advising, a joint advisor agreement for the proposed thesis must be submitted for approval by the current advisor, joint advisor and Teaching and Curriculum Committee, and sent to the Department for records before the oral defense.
- (5) Where the thesis advisor and the graduate student is or was the other party's spouse, a relative by blood within the third degree, or a relative through marriage, the relationship of thesis advisor and graduate student may not be established.
- (6) Changing advisor:
 1. Changing advisor form must be submitted to the department office by the student or original advisor, and is approved by the new advisor and the department chair. Changing advisor is allowed only once.
 2. The student must return all facilities, equipment, and resources from the original advisor.
 3. Publication and citation that include concepts, theories, and discoveries from the original advisor is prohibited unless approved by the original advisor.
 4. A new thesis proposal must be re-submitted to the department office when changing advisor, except for the original advisor resigning or retiring.
 5. Any dispute regarding change of advisor will be referred to the Teaching and Curriculum Committee, and settled by the Department faculty meeting.

VII. Credit Transfer and Course Waiver:

Students who have taken graduate courses prior to admission may apply for credit transfer or course waiver according to the Department's master's program credit transfer application procedure.

VIII. Thesis Proposal:

- (1) Graduate students in the Department must submit their thesis proposal for review at least 6 months before the oral defense. The Department will organize the oral defense committee. However, the thesis proposal review for dual degree is not subjected to this deadline, but will be determined by the thesis review committee.
- (2) The committee comprises at least 3 members (including the advisor), and is convened by the advisor.
- (3) Based on the graduate student's learning and thesis proposal, the committee must make recommendations to the advisor and student.
- (4) Students must submit a master's thesis proposal review form to the Department for records within one month of approval of their thesis proposal.

IX. Master's Degree Exam Committee:

- (1) The Department's master's degree Exam Committee comprises 3-5 members from the Department's on-campus and off-campus scholars and experts whose area of specialty corresponds to the student thesis. In addition, they must have the following qualifications and be recommended for appointment by the University president; the Department Chair will appoint a committee member as convener, but the advisor cannot be the convener:
 1. Is or was a professor, associate professor, or assistant professor.
 2. Is a research fellow, or is or was a researcher, associate researcher, or assistant researcher of Academia Sinica.
 3. Holds a doctoral degree, and has outstanding academic achievements.
 4. Has been researching in a rare, specific, or practical field, and has outstanding academic or professional achievements.
- (2) The criteria for determination of the requirements in subparagraphs 3 and 4 of the preceding paragraph shall be established by each degree-conferring academic unit.
- (3) The current or former spouse of a master's student or any of his/her relatives by blood or marriage within the third degree may not serve as a member of the examination committee for his/her oral defense.

X. Degree Exam:

- (1) The Department's graduate students may apply for the master's degree exam upon completion of required courses and credits, and thesis review approval.
- (2) Students who can fulfill required courses and credits at the end of the current semester may apply for an early master's degree exam upon submission of thesis proposal and recommendation by the advisor. Upon course and credit completion, the student may apply to be conferred the master's degree. However for students who fail to complete the required courses for the semester, their degree exam results will be invalid.

- (3) Prior to a thesis examination, a "thesis originality check" report shall be completed and submitted to the members of the examination committee for reference. After completion of the thesis examination, the thesis advisor shall sign the Degree Examination Grade Sheet for confirmation
- (4) The advisor will arrange the date and time for the degree exam. A hard copy of the Master's Thesis Oral Defense Letter of Recommendation must be submitted to the Department two weeks before the test, and the University president will issue a signed letter of appointment for the exam committee to form a Degree Exam Committee to conduct the exam.
- (5) The Department's master's degree exam includes thesis exam and thesis review:

1. Thesis Exam:

- (1) Conducted orally, with written test or video meeting when necessary.
- (2) In principle, the oral defense is opened to the public. The date, time, place and thesis topic must be announced at least one week before the defense.
- (3) Initial draft for the thesis must be submitted to the Exam Committee for review at least 7 days before the oral defense.
- (4) At least 3 Exam Committee members must be physically present (including advisor) for the exam to proceed, and no representative is permitted.
- (5) The Exam Committee must clearly state the direction and key areas for the student to make necessary corrections to the thesis.
- (6) The total score for the Degree Exam is 100, and 70 is the passing grade. There is only one evaluation, the final score being the average of the scores given by the committee members. However, if more than one-third of the committee members present give a failing grade, then the final score is a failing grade, and an average score will not be taken.
- (7) Applicant who fail the Degree Exam and whose study period has not expired may retake the examination in the next semester or the following academic year, and the re-examination is limited to one time; those who still fail the re-examination should be withdrawn from the school
- (8) An applicant will be deemed failed if the degree examination committee has found any fraud, alternation, plagiarism, ghostwriting, or other dishonest conducts regarding the applicant's thesis.
- (9) On the same day that the Department graduate students complete their thesis exam, they must submit their degree exam result form, oral defense report from each committee member present and a list of oral defense fees to the Department.

2. Thesis Review:

- (1) Upon passing their thesis exam, the Department's graduate students must make the necessary corrections as indicated by the Degree Exam Committee and return the corrected thesis to each committee member for review.
 - (2) The thesis review will not be graded; however, to pass, it must be approved by at least two-thirds of the Exam Committee.
 - (3) Postgraduate students should complete a report of originality comparison of their revised dissertation (thesis) and it should also be confirmed by their advisor.
 - (4) The passing score obtained for the thesis is the degree exam score, and Exam Committee members present at the exam will sign the Thesis Approval Form.
- (6) Graduate students must complete the following within a month of passing their thesis exam and review:
1. Submit the Thesis CD to the Department.
 2. Upload a digital version of their thesis abstract and full-text to the National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University Dissertations and Theses Upload System according to National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University Library Dissertation Abstracts and Full-text Digital File Archiving Standard, and after review and approval by the library, print hard copies of the thesis.
- (7) In principle, the Department's master's theses (including abstract) are written in Chinese or English, and must comply with the National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University Thesis Formatting Requirements.

XI. Graduation:

- (1) Department graduate students who have passed the master's Degree Exam, fulfilled the master's graduation requirements and submitted their Thesis Oral Defense Committee Review Report will be recommended to the University for conferment of master's degree.
- (2) Following review and approval by the library, graduate students must log in to the graduation system in the University's Office of Academic Affairs Registrar Group and print out the graduation procedure form, have it signed by the advisor, and submit it to the Department together with the following documents:
 1. Thesis digital file approval notice from the library.
 2. Two hard copies of the thesis (in green paperback cover): one copy will be shelved at the University library, and the other copy will be collected by the Office of Academic Affairs and sent to a Ministry of Education designated archive.
 3. Thesis full text digital CD: The Department will keep the full-text CD version of thesis.
 4. Other required documents.
- (3) Any student who has passed the degree examination shall submit the "Degree Examination Grade Sheet” to the Division of the Registrar during the semester in which the examination is conducted. The deadline for its Submission shall be January 31 in the first semester or July 31 in the second semester.

- (4) Postgraduate students who have passed the degree examination should submit their degree examination result sheet, hard copies of their dissertation, a report of originality comparison of their dissertation, and a statement of academic ethics and originality comparison, as well as upload their thesis abstract and full-text electronic file online and complete the school leaving procedures before the Division of Registrar issue a degree certificate to them.
- (5) The deadline for submission of a printed thesis shall be the final working day before the start of the following semester to the one in which the degree examination is conducted. Any student who has failed to submit a printed thesis by the deadline and whose study period has not expired shall still register in the next semester.
- (6) Any student whose study period has expired and who has failed to submit the Degree Examination Grade Sheet within the semester when his/her study period expires or submit a printed thesis by the final working day before the start of the next semester shall withdraw from the University.

XII. Cancellation of the conferred diploma certificate

- (1) If any of the following circumstances applies to any student who has been granted a master’s or PhD degree, his/her degree shall be revoked, and the degree certificate awarded shall be canceled by announcement:
 1. His/Her admission eligibility or course of study involves misrepresentation or fraud .
 2. His/Her thesis, work, certificate of achievements or written, technical or professional practice report involves fraud, alternation, plagiarism, ghostwriting or other fraudulent practice .
- (2) After the degree has been revoked in accordance with the preceding paragraph, a notice shall be given to require the student to return his/her degree certificate, and other junior colleges, universities and competent authorities shall be informed of such revocation and cancellation.

XIII. Regulation Amendments

- (1) Matters not noted in these regulations will be dealt with according to relevant statutes and regulations of the Ministry of Education and the University. Any questions will be referred to the Teaching and Curriculum Committee, or decided by the Department faculty meeting.
- (2) These regulations are established by the Department curriculum committees, and approved by the Department faculty meetings, and implemented following review and approval by college and University curriculum committees and subsequent approval by the Academic Affairs meeting; and likewise for amendments.

- (3) These Regulations are adopted in Chinese, which shall prevail in case of any discrepancy between the English translation and the Chinese original.